

A Buddhist monk in orange robes stands on a small green stage, addressing a large group of students sitting on the ground in a school courtyard. The students are wearing white uniforms and face masks. A large white building is in the background.

