

A photograph of four women in traditional Thai costumes performing a dance on a stage at night. They are wearing white blouses and long, patterned sarongs. Each woman holds a lit candle in her right hand. The stage is decorated with scaffolding and lights, and the background is dark with some red and white elements.

